ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS.

No. 8 COMPANY.

No. 408145, Sergeant G. N. Sprittles

As your connection with the Royal Army Medical Corps is about to be severed, I wish to take this opportunity of thanking you for having borne your share of the great burden of this War.

You have reason to be proud of your service in a Corps, which, during the last 5 years, has been tried as highly as, or perhaps more highly than, any Corps has been tried before, and which has always proved itself able to cope with every fresh demand made.

I trust that you may be blessed with good health, peace and prosperity on your return to Civil Life.

York,

6th June 1919.

W. G. Bedford
Major-General.

Commanding R.A.M.C., Northern Command.

J.R. STEELE 1919

To be posted in A.B. 439 and A.B. 62.

KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT!

The success of any operation we carry out depends chiefly on surprise.

DO NOT TALK.—When you know that your Unit is making preparations for an attack, don't talk about them to men in other Units or to strangers, and keep your mouth shut, especially in public places.

Do not be inquisitive about what other Units are doing; if you hear or see anything, keep it to yourself.

If you hear anyone else talking about operations, stop him at once.

The success of the operations and the lives of your comrades depend upon your SILENCE.

If you ever should have the misfortune to be taken prisoner, don't give the enemy any information beyond your rank and name. In answer to all other questions you need only say, "I cannot answer."

He cannot compel you to give any other information. He may use threats. He will respect you if your courage, patriotism, and self-control do not fail. Every word you say may cause the death of one of your comrades.

Either after or before you are openly examined, Germans, disguised as British Officers or men, will be sent among you or will await you in the cages or quarters or hospital to which you are taken.

Germans will be placed where they can overhear what you say without being seen by you.

DO NOT BE TAKEN IN BY ANY OF THESE TRICKS.
